Jamaica used to be my dream island. Whenever I hear its name, I remember my lovely trip there in 2015. My brother and I flew to Kingston, the capital of Jamaica. On arrival there, I was excited to see the green lands and white beaches. The best way to go around was by taxi. We stayed at a lovely hotel, which cost 10 rials a day. The people were friendly, and they could speak English fluently, so we faced no problem with communication.

We planned for a programme with the guide's help. Our journey plan covered the three days we spent there. On the first day, we went to the Blue Mountain. There we climbed the mountain and saw the lake. The next day, we went to the White Beach. We swam in the sea and cooked seafood ourselves. In addition, we watched the dolphins swimming. On the third day, we entered the forest to discover the natural life. We saw beautiful birds. The guide told us that there were two thousand types of birds and the hunting time was in September. The three places were great, but we liked the second day the most. I wish I could return to that wonderful country one day.
